

What if...?

Could/Would/Should

Situations

What If You Had To Pick One Person To Be With Forever? Explain why.

You can say:

- I would pick _____, because _____, and _____.

-

After you finish talking, you redirect the question to the next person

Ex: What about you, Sam, who would you pick?

Would you rather eat steak for a
week or ice cream
for a week?

You can say:

- I would rather

**-----,
because

**-----
-----•

You forgot your
lunch at home.
What would you
do?

You could say:

- I would _____,
And _____.

Redirect the question
to the next person.

- And what would you do,
Jean-Baptiste?

A bully threatened
to beat you up
after school.
What should you
do?

You could say:

- I should _____,
And _____.

Redirect the question to the
next person.

Ex: - And what do you think you should do Marie?

You borrowed your sister's or brother's bike one day without asking and it broke while you were using it. What could you do?

You could say:

- I could _____, or maybe _____.

You can say:

- I could _____,
Then try to _____, or maybe _____.

Redirect the question to the next person in your team.

Ex: What could you do, Kevin?

You really want to invite this new girl/guy to come to your birthday party, but you have never talked to them before. You are worried they will say no. What could you do?

What would you do if you witnessed someone steal
the purse or wallet of an old person?

You could say:

- I would + (verb) +
-----,

Then I would

-----.

Redirect the question to the next person in your group.

- What about you, Nora? What would you do?

How would you react if you were in a bank while it is being held up?

You could say:

- If I were in a bank while it is being held up, I would

-----,
And -----.

Redirect the question to the next person in your group.

- How would you react, Léa?

What would you choose, be rich and unhappy or be happy but poor?

You could say:

- I would choose to be _____ because _____ and, _____.

Redirect the question to the next person in your group.

- What would you choose, Nathan?

You see a stack of hundred dollar bills drop from an old, rich man's pocket. No one saw it but you. What would you do?

You could say:

- I would _____, because _____, and maybe _____.

Redirect the question to the next person in your group.

Ex: How about you, Raphael, What would you do?

Your car runs out of gas in the middle of the desert. What could you do?

You could say:

- I could + (verb) _____, or try to _____.

Redirect the question to the next person in your team.

You have the chance to meet and have dinner with one famous superstar, who would you choose and why?

You could say:

- I would choose _____,
Because _____, and _____.
Redirect the question to the next person in your group.

Ex: And who would you choose, Magalie?

Which five things would you absolutely put on your bucket list?

You could say:

- On my bucket list, I would put:
-----, and
-----, also
-----, then
-----,
finally
-----.

Redirect the question to the next person in your team.

Ex: What about you, Laurie, what would you include on your bucket list?

What could you do if you are wrongly accused of a crime?

You could say:

- I could _____, and try to _____, or _____.

Redirect the question to the next person in your group.

Ex: - What do you think you could do, Sarah-Ève?

What if you woke up to be the Prime Minister of Canada for one day, what would you do and why?

You could say:

- I would + (verb)

-----,
Then I would

-----,
And finally I would

-----.

Redirect the question to the next person on your team.

Ex: What would you do, Justin, if you were a prime minister for a day?

